Welcome to Horizon Glen - one of North Grand Junction's sought-after neighborhoods and this home is exactly what you'd hope to find here. From the moment you arrive, the classic brick and stucco facade, mature landscaping, and views stretching out in every direction tell you something special is waiting inside. Step through the front door and the living room makes an immediate statement. Cathedral ceilings soar overhead, a grand staircase commands the space, and French doors bring in light and connection to the outdoors. This room was built for gathering, celebrating, and living large. The kitchen carries its own personality - warm wood cabinetry, a center island with counter seating, gas range, and a layout that keeps the cook right in the middle of the action. Just off the kitchen, the formal dining room is a showpiece - gorgeous sliding doors open the space beautifully, and sets the mood for any occasion. A main-level bedroom offers flexibility for guests or a home office, and the backyard patio is the kind of space that earns its keep every single season - mature trees, an above ground garden bed and natural surroundings that make stepping outside feel like a genuine escape. Head upstairs and the primary suite delivers a true retreat with a four-piece en-suite featuring a jetted tub, walk-in shower, a beautiful vanity, and walk-in closets.
