Tucked into Beehive Estates in North Grand Junction, this one's built to work for just about anyone - a home that combines thoughtful accessibility with genuine style, which isn't easy to find. Accessibility was clearly a priority here, and it shows in the details: a garage lift, a ramped deck, accessible counter heights, and a no-step shower in the primary bath. Wide hallways and grab bars are already in place throughout, making day-to-day living easier without sacrificing comfort or design. Inside, tall vaulted ceilings and abundant natural light give the main living space some real presence, with a gas fireplace anchoring the room for cooler evenings. A dedicated office nook keeps work-from-home life simple and separate from the main living areas. The kitchen holds its own with a center island, stainless steel appliances, granite countertops, and a pantry - everything you need without the extra fuss. Up front, a flexible bedroom comes with a built-in Murphy bed, giving you guest space, a home gym, or a hobby room without permanently giving up a full bedroom to it. Just off the main living area, an enclosed porch adds another comfortable spot to sit, rain or shine, extending the living space without extending the maintenance. The primary suite is generously sized, offering a peaceful retreat with a large en-suite bath and a genuinely spacious walk-in
